Mr. M. Donnellan (President of Clann na Talmhan), who headed the poll in Galway East, and was elected on the first count.

FIANNA FAIL FIGHTING TO RETAIN ITS MAJORITY

Defeat of Prominent Candidates

AT an early hour this morning the Government was fighting hard to retain a majority in this election, with the signs that in a Dail of 137 members (the Speaker excluded) its total will not greatly exceed the 69 it needs for a bare majority.

Fine Gael has fared even worse and it looks as if its party of 45 members will be reduced by about a quarter. Labour has not gained seats to the extent expected, especially in Dublin, but will probably increase its membership to about fifteen. Farmers seem likely to have a party of about ten.

General Mulcahy Goes

Well-known men in public life who will not be seen in the next Dail include Professor O'Sullivan, General Mulcahy, defeated by Mr. Jim Larkin; Mr. J. Costello, K.C., beaten in Dublin Townships, and Major J. S. Myles, defeated in Donegal East. Mr. William Dwyer, who was expected to add to the liveliness of the eleventh Dail, failed to secure election.

FARMERS' SEATS

The defection from the main parties is indicated by the results from 29 constituencies of the 34. The decline in the voting strength of the parties is as follows:—

	1938.	1943.
F.F.	546,000	443,000
F.G.	351,000	245,000

The rate of loss in the case of the Government Party is about three thousand in each constituency, and for Fine Gael it is about 3,200. Labour has been gaining at the rate of 2,900 votes and the Independents have an average gain of over 3,000 votes in each constituency.

With two seats captured in Roscommon, the Farmers have gained 7 new seats, one in Donegal, N. Cork, E. Kilkenny, and Galway E., where the Clann na Talnham leader headed the poll and was elected on the first count.

Three Ministers of State have had to struggle hard to keep their places, notably Mr. Derrig, Minister for Education, who had to wait for the fifth count in Kilkenny to be elected without a quota, after dropping nearly 4,000 of his 1938 first preference votes; Mr. Boland, Minister for Justice, who was down 3,000 on his last figures in Roscommon, and failed to get the quota; and Dr. J. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, whose poll fell by 2,000, and he failed to get elected on the first count in Wexford.

HIGHEST VOTE

On the other hand, Mr. Lemass, Minister for Supplies, who has been the object of considerable criticism for his handling of the commodities situation in the last two years, brought his vote up by 2,000 to over 16,000—the highest in the State—in South Dublin, while Mr. S. T. O'Kelly, the Minister for Finance, held his 12,000 in Dublin, North-West. Mr. MacEntee, Minister for Local Government, also increased his vote by more than a thousand in the townships, and in the North-East Mr. Traynor, the Defence Minister, put his total up by three thousand. The Minister for the Co-ordination of Defensive Measures lost 1,000 votes, but was elected on the first count. His party candidate, Alderman L. Walsh, lost his seat.

THE LEADERS

In Clare Mr de Valera maintained his position of supremacy, and in Cork Mr. Cosgrave, Leader of Fine Gael, improved his first preference vote in heading the poll. Here, however, there were other surprises. Mr. F. Daly, the Fianna Fail candidate, was the runner-up, and Mr. W. Dwyer, the fancied Fine Gael nominee, with a comparatively small poll, was eliminated. Another surprise was the defeat of Major Myles, the prominent Independent deputy Elected, 84; to be elected, 54.

FORECAST

At 6 a.m. to-day the first preference results had not been received from South Mayo and Laoighis-Offaly, but it looks as if the final state of the parties, including these two constituencies, will be:

Fianna Fail	68
Fine Gael	35
Labour	17
Farmers	12
Independents	6

All other parties would thus have 70 seats to Fianna Fail's 68, which includes the Speaker.

from East Donegal, whose vote was split by the Farmer candidate, Mr. W. Sheldon. Formerly Major Myles headed the poll in that constituency. Mr. Kissane was brought un expectedly to the top of the poll in North Kerry.

Both the Independent Republicans and Altiri na hAiseirghe did badly, getting no more than a few hundred votes in each constituency they contested.

Great struggles took place between Mr. J. Larkin, the Labour candidate, and General R. Mulcahy, Fine Gael, in North-East Dublin, and Alderman Anthony, Mayor of Cork, and Alderman J. Hickey, the Labour candidate there, Alderman Anthony being sucessful.

There was a surprise in Leitrim, when Mr. B. Maguire, the sitting Fianna Fail member, who had been passed over by his party in the nominations and stood as an Independent, headed the poll, without securing the quota, however.

Election results may be obtained by ringing Dublin 72971 or Cork 448.

Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly, proposing a vote of thanks to the returning officer, Mr. Early, and his staff, at the end of the count in the Dublin North-West constituency, said that the only thing that had disappointed him about the election campaign was one incident. At one of his meetings there had been organised opposition from a certain section of the Labour Party. He said that some of the expectations of their opponents were going to be completely denied, and the result, as far as he could find it up to that time, showed that there was no foundation for the forecast in the Irish Times that morning. Mr. O'Kelly said that Fine Gael could have expected nothing but to lose seats after their behaviour since the beginning of the emergency and the programme they had put before the people.

Mr. E. Tucker, on behalf of the Labour candidates, repudiated the suggestion of organised opposition to a meeting. He took exception also to the trick played on the Labour Party in the previous twenty-four hours in reference to an alleged message from the Communist Party in England. It was a filthy thing for their opponents to drag in the suggestion of Communism. Fianna Fail had sent one of the present Ministers to Moscow in 1922.

Mr. O'Kelly—Fianna Fail was not formed until 1926.

Mr. P. F. O'Reilly, solicitor, thanked the returning officer on behalf of the Fine Gael candidates.

A French merchant seaman, Enge le Corre (47), a ship's cook, was shot dead in a main street in Cardiff yesterday by an unknown assailant, who made a get-away in a motor car. The police were searching last night over a wide area for the car and its occupants.

DUCE ORDERS CHANGES

Signor Mussolini's second change this month in Italy's provincial authority was disclosed last night in a Rome Radio announcement of 18 new appointments to Federal Secretaryships in Central and Northern Italy, Sicily and Sardinia.

A fortnight ago he changed 21 Prefects from one provincial capital to another, and made eleven new appointments. The latest change also involves new Presidents and Trustees for seven of Italy's most important Fascist organisations.—(P.A. and Reuter.)

Japanese Repulsed at Mubo

A Reuter message from General MacArthur's Headquarters yesterday states that in an unusually strong attack on Allied positions on Lababia Ridge, in the Mubo area of North-Eastern New Guinea, Japanese troops were broken up and beaten off with more than 100 casualties.

The attack was the first determined land movement in the South-West Pacific zone since the middle of last month. Allied aircraft gave support with strafing sweeps, striking in daylight at the seaplane base at Taberfane, in the Aroa Islands. Bombers and fighters damaged two float 'planes, destroyed a barge, and shot down and damaged five intercepting 'planes.

Nominations for Senate

Nomination papers for the following intending candidates for panel membership at the forthcoming Senate elections have been lodged with the Returning Officer:

For the Cultural Panel—Surgeon R. A. Stoney, Fitzwilliam square, Dublin, and Surgeon William Doolin, Fitzwilliam square, Dublin.

For Agricultural Panel—Patrick D. Casey, The Grove, Newmarket, Co. Cork, creamery manager; Dominick McCabe, Killygarry, Co. Cavan, creamery manager.

Nominations by nominating bodies close on 22nd July. These are subject to revision by the Returning Officer and the Judicial Assessor on 6th August.

"Prelude to Invasion"

Jean Paquis, in a broadcast talk last night on Paris radio, suggested that the increased air activity may be the prelude to an Allied invasion.

"The Allies are still convinced that Italy can be defeated by pitiless bombing," he said. "The Axis replies that in this terrible ordeal the population finds the strength and will-power to fight through to victory.

"The same applies to the west, where the Allies are stubbornly trying to destroy the industrial power of Germany. It is very probable that in spite of the note of triumph struck in Allied communiques this increased air activity will come to an end sooner than many believe.

"Sardinia to-day is a base which can become the geal of an Allied attack. A strong reserve of German and Italian troops is guarding this unsinkable aircraft-carrier. If the Italo-German Air Forces were unable to prevent a landing there the Allies would still have to face a costly and difficult campaign."

STORY OF DONEGAL VENDETTA

THE death of Private Joseph Doherty (32), Irish street, Raphoe, County Donegal, in the early hours of 18th May, had a sequel in Lifford District Court yesterday, when 21-year-old William Hewitt, a member of the L.D.F., also of Raphoe, appeared on a charge of murder. There was an alternative charge of manslaughter.

Mr. J. P. O'Reilly, for the Attorney-General, said that Doherty was a deserter from the Army, apparently avoiding arrest. In a caravan next door to brothers of Doherty lived a family named Lynch. There was tremendous ill-feeling between the Dohertys on the one hand and the Lynchs and Hewitts on the other, and it developed into a savage vendetta. The Dohertys blamed the Hewitts for the arrest of Joseph Doherty, who was previously in the Army, and had previously deserted and been arrested. That was the crux of the whole business. On the night of May 17 John and Alex. Doherty, brothers of the deceased man, were drinking. They caught John Lynch and gave him a most savage beating. They smashed up the door of Lynch's house, where Hewitt lived. Hewitt retaliated by smashing Doherty's establishment. Joseph Doherty arrived and made a savage attack on Lynchs, smashing the door. Hewitt put a cartridge into his rifle, saying he would shoot. He did so, and killed Joseph Doherty as he stood in the doorway. There was no question of a warning shot being fired. The State case was that the shot was fired to kill.

Sergeant Grennan gave evidence of arresting John and Alex. Doherty, who were released on bail, on a charge of causing malicious injury to Lynchs door on the night of May 17 or early on May 18.

ALLEGED THREAT

Witness asked Hewitt what happened. He replied: "Sergeant, I shot him. He would have murdered us all. Look at the stones. I did not mean to do it. I only meant to scare him." He was present when Hewitt made a statement to Superintendent Kelly. He said that Joseph Doherty threatened to murder everybody in Lynch's house. Doherty had thrown stones into the house. Hewitt was afraid someone in the house would be killed, so he ran for his rifle. "I did not take any aim. I had no intention of hitting him, and I fired, as I thought, high above his head. After the shot I saw him stagger outside," he said.

A further remand was granted.

U.S. Miners Going Back to the Pits

Reuter's Special Correspondent in New York stated last night that miners began to trickle back to the pits yesterday morning as news of the decision of their Union's Policy Committee reached the coalfields. More were expected to report for later shifts, and full production was likely to be resumed last night. The steel companies have already cancelled arrangements for a further curtailment of operations, and the U.S. Steel Corporation announces that 13 blast furnaces scheduled to shut down to-day will be kept going.

The miners were ordered back to work by John L. Lewis, after a dramatic decision late on Tuesday night by the Policy Committee of the Union.

The return to work until October 31 does not mean that the dispute has been finally settled, but, unlike the two previous truces, which lasted only a fortnight, it ensures production for over four months, and offers hope that differences may be ironed out. Mr. Lewis made it clear that the miners were going to work for the Government, and not for the coalowners.

The American coal owners have written to the War Labour Board demanding the restoration of the mines to their proper ownership and control. The owners, said the letter, are being penalised for complying with the Board's order by having their mines taken from them.—(Reuter.)

PRESIDENT'S ACTION

President Roosevelt said last night that he proposes to ask Congress to raise the military age limit to 65 in order to curb strikes.

The move was intended to meet any threat of interruption of work in plants, mines or other establishments owned or operated by the Government.

The statement declares that before the coal strike ended the Government had taken steps to set up machinery for inducting into the armed forces all miners subjected to the Selective Service Act, who had absented themselves from work without just cause.—(Reuter.)

Hunt for Riot Leaders

A move to find and punish the instigators of the racial clash in Detroit, which brought death to 29 persons and injuries to hundreds, was foreshadowed by Mr. Harry F. Kelley, the Governor.

He said he was seriously considering asking for a special Grand Jury to punish them in a manner "commensurate with their crimes."

"The real inciters and assaulters are the ones we are after," he said.

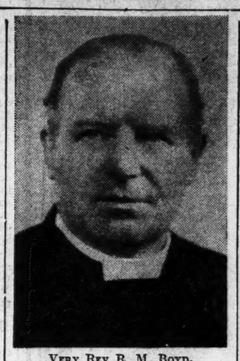

The mass prosecution of 500 persons on charges of misdemeanour and felony came before three Judges yesterday. The first batch of defendants, both negroes and whites, were sentenced to 90 days' imprisonment.—(Reuter.)

No Northern "Reign of Terror"

Mr. W. Lowry, Northern Ireland Minister of Home Affairs, in the Belfast House of Commons last night, denied the allegation of Mr. T. J. Campbell (Nationalist, Belfast Central) that there was a "reign of terror" in the Nationalist areas because of police raids. In view of the things found in the houses raided, said Mr. Lowry, it was silly to speak of these people being oppressed. If they had their way there would be the same distraction to the war effort as was experienced in Ireland 27 years ago, when the uncurbed activities of lawless elements had immobilised some thousands of men for two and a half years.

Sir B Brooke in London

Sir Basil Brooke, Northern Ireland Premier, left Belfast for London yesterday, where he will see a number of British Ministers.

VERY REV R. M. BOYD.

BISHOP OF KILLALOE CHOSEN

THE Very Rev. R. M. Boyd, B.D., M.C., was elected Bishop of Killaloe, Kilfenora, Clonfert and Kilmacduagh, on the first count in the election of the Diocesan Synod held in Limerick yesterday.

Youngest son of the late Mr. Robert Boyd, J.P., of Marathon, Kilkeel, Co. Down, he was educated at St. Andrew's College and Trinity College, Dublin, where he won honours and prizes in history and philosophy. He took his B.A. and Divinity Testimonium in 1912; M.A. in 1919, and B.D. in 1929. He was ordained in 1912 for the curacy of Fiddown, Diocese of Ossory, under Faculty, from Archbishop Crozier, as he was under canonical age for ordination. Soon after the outbreak of the 1914-'18 Great War he went to France and was attached to the 2nd Battalion of the King's Own Regiment. He saw service in Flanders, France and the Balkans, and, at the early age of 27, was appointed Senior Chaplain. During his service in the army he was mentioned in despatches and awarded the Military Cross.

In 1920 he was appointed to the Incumbency of Ballingarry and Lockeen, and in 1925 to Shinrone and Ettagh, where he remained until 1932, when he was appointed to the Cathedral Parish of Killaloe. He was a Canon of St. Patrick's Cathedral from 1931 to 1936; Treasurer of St. Flannan's Cathedral from 1931 to 1936; Dean of Killaloe from 1936, and Examining Chaplain to the Bishop of Killaloe from 1929. For many years Diocesan Secretary of Killaloe and Kilfenora, he was also Registrar of the United Dioceses.

On the first vote Dean Boyd received 29 clerical votes out of a possible 31, and 62 lay votes out of a possible 67. The Most Rev. Dr. Barton, Archbishop of Dublin, presided. Mr. R. H. Ryland, chartered accountant, Dublin, was the assessor.

Axis Says Mediterranean Lull Nearing End

German Radio stated last night that German Generals now believe indications are increasing which suggest that the Mediterranean lull is approaching its end.

"It is stressed," the announcer said, "that German troops are standing at the ready by the side of the Italian troops to meet any attack in the Mediterranean area."

President Roosevelt conferred in Washington yesterday with his military and naval chiefs.

The Germans are rushing anti-invasion preparations throughout Norway, according to reports reaching Stockholm, says Reuter's special correspondent there. He states that in the past few days Oslo fjord had had a boom of submarine nets placed across it.

Later Berlin Radio stated that the British authorities had decreed a security zone along the Syrian-Turkish border at places 30 miles deep into Syrian territory.

R.A.F. Wellington bombers have made another heavy night attack on Salerno, the road and rail junction between Naples and Southern Italy. Reuter's special correspondent in North Africa states that the British tin-engined 'planes, with their loads of 4,000lb. bombs, attacked within 12 hours of Salerno's initial raid by Mitchell Mediums.

Flames and smoke were still rising from the first raid as the Wellingtons flew over the port, 30 miles along the coast from Naples. A heavy load of bombs was dropped with little interference from the defences. No night-fighters were encountered, and all the Allied 'planes returned safely to their North African bases.

R.A.F. Raid on Mulheim 36 'Planes Missing

A COMMUNIQUE issued by the British Air Ministry yesterday stated:—

"Aircraft of Bomber Command made a heavy attack on objectives at Mulheim, one of the smaller towns in the Ruhr. Preliminary reports indicate that the bombing was well concentrated. Crews reported that large fires were still burning at Krefeld and Huls.

"Aircraft of Fighter Command carried out intruder patrols over Holland and France. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed over Holland. Thirty-five bombers and one fighter are missing."

Mulheim, with a population of 136,000, is an important centre of the German steel industry, and has large railway, wagon and locomotive repair shops. It is one of the principal outlets of the Ruhr to Southern Germany by rail. It was last raided on December 21, 1940.

The British Air Ministry News Service states that the night photographs of the attack on Krefeld have now been plotted, and they show that the bombing was highly concentrated. The attack on Mulheim was only slightly less heavy than the attack on Krefeld.

GERMAN STATEMENT

"What the population of Oberhausen and Mulheim, and the people along the Rhine and in the Ruhr district have had to endure lately is unbelievable," said a German front-line reporter over German radio yesterday, quoted by Associated Press.

"During the last 48 hours all A.A. posts, and all-night fighter stations have had alerts without a break. Yesterday and last night a total of 92 enemy 'planes was shot down, including 72 four-engined bombers. During the last 48 hours 136 machines were shot down by fighters and A.A."

SWISS PROTESTS

Switzerland is to protest both to Britain and Germany against incidents during the Lancaster raid on the radio location work at Friedrichshafen on Sunday-Monday night last. A communiqué last night said that the Swiss Minister in London has been instructed to protest vigorously against the violation of Swiss air territory by British 'planes. The Swiss Minister in Berlin is to protest against the firing of German A.A. shells on to Swiss territory. It has been established that shells which fell at Kuemmertshausen (Canton Thurgau) came from A.A. batteries on the German side of Lake Constance.—Reuter.

Belfast By-Election

July 2nd has been fixed as nomination day for the Queen's University by-election for Stormont. In the event of a contest, the election, which will be by post, will be from July 13th to July 17th.

Admiral Luetzow, German Radio Commentator, stated last night that, despite ups and downs of U-boat sinkings, the Allies have already lost 31,000,000 tons of shipping.—(Reuter.)

Make This 3 Minute Test
No More Razors Or Smelly Pastes
"I never dared appear in bathing suit or evening dress. I was so ashamed of the ugly hair under my arms and on my arms and legs. I had tried everything—electric needles and smelly pastes. Shaving only made the hair grow faster. I was in despair until a friend told me about New 'VEET'. This dainty cream removed absolutely every trace of hair in 3 minutes. Left my skin soft and velvety-smooth."
Just as shaving turns a youth's downy growth into a stiff, coarse beard, so your unwanted hair grows back thicker and coarser when you use a razor. The up-to-date girl uses the latest discovery of science—New 'Veet'. This dainty, fragrant cream gently dissolves away the hair down below the surface of the skin. Leaves the skin satin-soft, without a trace of stubble—not even a shadow. And actually weakens growth. You will be amazed how quick, easy and pleasant it is to remove hair with New 'VEET.' But never apply it where you want hair to grow again. Successful results guaranteed with New 'VEET' or money refunded. At all chemists, 6d. and 1/3.

Eat without Pain
no more Acidity—no more Flatulence
Perhaps your stomach is still struggling with your last meal. You're gasping with wind round the heart and doubled up with indigestion. Why? Because your stomach is always too acid. It sours every mouthful you eat. It turns meat into leather.
You can stop these agonising attacks this very day by taking 'Milk of Magnesia' Tablets. They relieve acidity and sourness at once. No matter what you eat, it remains sweet and digestible.
Your stomach makes easy work of digesting it. No sour repeating, no heartburn, not a trace of flatulence, not a twinge of your old agony.
What about your next meal? Are you going to submit to torture when one or two 'Milk of Magnesia' Tablets will save you? Make that meal the test. Get a box of the tablets now and have them in readiness. You'll be thankful you tried them.
Neat flat boxes for the pocket, 6d. and 1/-. Also family sizes, 2/- and 3/6 everywhere.

Evidence of Gas Co. Directors

PRINCIPAL witness in the resumed taking of depositions in the case against W. J. Grey, Barnhill, Dalkey, General Manager of the Alliance and Dublin Gas Consumers' Co.; Harold Clifford Hoskins, "Moreen," Dundrum, former marine superintendent of the company, and Patrick Doran, Cashel road, Crumlin, former garage foreman, in the District Court yesterday was the Right Hon. James McMahon, chairman of the company. He gave evidence of discussions which he and three other directors of the company had with Mr. Grey, the general secretary, in December and January last, in consequence of information they had received about shortages of petrol. Grey said there was no proof of the existence of the deficiencies, which might be really a book error. Grey, however, refused to make such a definite statement, and later demurred when it was proposed to discuss the matter with Mr. Robertson, the assistant manager.

MRS. GREY'S LETTER

In consequence of Grey's attitude the other directors decided to wire to the then chairman, Mr. Dickens, and the telegram was shown to Grey. At the Board meeting on 28th January a letter was read from Mrs. Grey intimating that her husband's health was bad, and a certificate stated that his health was in a dilapidated state, and a rest of four or six weeks was recommended. Grey said the letter had been written without his authority, and that he desired to remain on duty. Eventually the directors agreed that Mr. Grey should take a month or six weeks' rest, and this he accepted.

Mr. McMahon said that between May and December, 1942, there was no intimation to him about petrol deficiencies. It would be Grey's duty as chief official of the company to draw the Board's attention to any irregularities or deficiencies.

Mr. R. Moore, Ongar, Clonsilla, a director of the company since September, 1942, said that he had attended all meetings of the Board since his appointment until the end of the year. Grey was present at all those meetings, but he never heard him mention a shortage of petrol.

The further hearing was adjourned until to-day.

Kildare Property for Charities

Mr. Justice Overend, in the High Court yesterday, appointed Mr. John J. Dunne, solicitor, Railway road, Kildare, as trustee of three houses in Claresgate street, Kildare, and a field, portion of lands left by the will of Miss Mary Ellen Galvin, late of Kilboggan, Nurney, County Kildare, for the benefit of the Kildare branch of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Kildare Nursing Association. He further directed the vesting of the property in Mr. Dunne, to whom he gave liberty to apply to have himself registered as owner, and to concur in the carrying out of its sale.

Mr. J. N. Garland (instructed by Mr. John J. Dunne) appeared for Mr. James Merrins, Kildoon, Nurney, surviving executor of Miss Galvin's will; and Mr. George D. Murnaghan (instructed by Mr. Brendan P. McCormick) for the Attorney-General.

Trial Date Fixed

The Special Criminal Court, sitting at Collins' Barracks, Dublin, yesterday, fixed July 13 as the date of trial of Patrick A. Walsh and Timothy O'Sullivan, both of Ballinacourth, Tralee, who were charged with robbing James O'Connor, on June 7, of £20, at Barrigeendaniel, Co. Kerry, while armed with revolvers.

Walsh was also charged with membership of an unlawful organisation.

Alleged Theft of Petrol from Collinstown

"IF the facts which will be given in this case are accepted by the jury, it will establish that the management of Collinstown Aerodrome seems to be rotten from the top to the bottom," said Mr. J. A. McCarthy, S.C., who, with Mr. A. O Cuiv (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor), appeared for the prosecution in the Dublin Circuit Criminal Court yesterday, before Judge Shannon and a jury, when Walter McCabe, Superintendent of Collinstown Airport, and James O'Brien, of Clonard, Balbriggan, pleaded not guilty to charges of having stolen a quantity of about ten gallons of petrol, belonging to Air Rianta Teoranta, between May 1 and August 31, 1941. They also pleaded not guilty on other charges of conspiracy, of stealing and receiving between May 1 and September 30, 1941, 14 gallons of petrol, the property of the company, and on other charges of having falsified the company's account books.

"While the amount of oil in a particular charge might be small," continued Mr. McCarthy, "the charge itself and the matters arising out of it might be of great importance to those concerned and to the community." Aer Lingus Rianta was a quasi-State Company, which managed and controlled Collinstown Aerodrome. The statement that the management of Collinstown Aerodrome was rotten from top to bottom was a very grave statement. The petrol was taken out and used for purposes other than the company's purposes, and the books of the company were so kept by O'Brien, with the connivance of McCabe, so as to make it appear that the physical stock of oil in the company's stores corresponded with what appeared in the books. "The Superintendent and some of the workers were in a conspiracy to defraud the company," he said.

Jeremiah F. Dempsey, secretary of the company when the alleged offences were committed, and now manager and secretary, gave evidence of the appointment of McCabe as superintendent. O'Brien was stores clerk, taking the records of the issue of oil and petrol in connection with the aerodrome. McCabe had a car for which he was permitted an allowance of petrol for use in connection with the airport, but not outside it.

Francis J. Kelly, accountant, Aer Rianta, Teoranta, said that it was O'Brien's duty to check the quantity of petrol delivered in connection with the work of the aerodrome as against the invoices. From March 1 to April 30, 1941, the amount of petrol issued was 237 gallons. In the same period for 1942 the amount was 383 gallons.

William F. Dwyer, assistant accountant to the company until January, 1942, said that in May, 1941, he got four gallons of petrol from McCabe, whom he had told he was going to get married.

WITNESS WARNED

At this stage Judge Shannon cautioned Mr. Dwyer that he need not answer any question that might incriminate him. Replying that he would answer the questions, Mr. Dwyer said that he got petrol from McCabe on about five other occasions.

In reply to Mr. P. J. Roe, S.C., who, with Mr. T. B. Hannin (instructed by Messrs. Kennedy and McGonagle), appeared for McCabe, Mr. Dwyer said that he did not know whether the petrol was got from Mr. McCabe's private stock or from friends.

John Moylan, formerly employed at Collinstown Aerodrome, who was also warned not to answer anything that might incriminate him, said that he used to go to O'Brien's office when he wanted petrol for a tractor which he used in the aerodrome. He used to sign for more petrol than he received for about a year and a half prior to his dismissal in February, 1942. After he had been dismissed he called for a reference, and saw McCabe, who said, "What came over you, Moylan, to take the petrol"? He replied, "I am not the only one at the game." McCabe then said that he would look after the other in due course. In reply to Mr. Roe, he stated that he was not watched, and said, "It would take a lot to watch all that was going on at Collinstown."

The further hearing was adjourned until to-day.

Mr. Jos. O'Doherty (instructed by Mr. G. L. McGowan) appeared for O'Brien.

Newsprint in Britain

Colonel J. J. Astor, M.P., chairman of "The Times Publishing Co.," speaking at a Devonshire Club luncheon, yesterday, in London, on "The Press and the Nation in War-Time," said that newspapers had made the maximum economies possible and reached the minimum newsprint consumption necessary to perform their functions if they were to retain their present features in however attenuated a form.

Newspapers were now using less than 20 per cent. of their pre-war consumption of newsprint, and he hoped the Government Departments could say as much. Newsprint allocations were carried out by the Press itself. "We have saved the Government a heap of trouble by doing the job for them."

Several ships chartered to supply the British press with newsprint had been sunk. He did not think the Government would "let down" the press if newsprint stocks ran dangerously low.

Fatal Co. Dublin Accident

Damages were assessed at £300, to be apportioned amongst the seven children of Peter Daly, farmer and turf vendor, Blackwood, Robertstown, Naas, in an action heard before Mr. Justice Martin Maguire, in the High Court yesterday, in which Patrick Daly, a son, claimed damages for the loss of the father, who was knocked from a horse drawn cart by an ambulance owned by the State, in a collision near Palmerstown, on January 30, 1942, and died two days later.

Mr. Michael Binchy, K.C., Mr. P. J. Roe, K.C., and Mr. Art O'Connor (instructed by Messrs. O'Connor and Coonan) appeared for Mr. Daly; and Mr. McGonigal, K.C., and Mr. McDonagh (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) for the Minister for Finance.

Minister Warns Absentee Miners in Britain

An appeal to the "really bad boys" among miners, the four and a half per cent. who are guilty of voluntary absenteeism, was made in the House of Commons yesterday by Major Gwilym Lloyd George, British Minister of Fuel and Power.

After quoting figures to show that most cases of absence from work were due to sickness or injury, he declared: "I am not attempting to hide the fact that there is an irresponsible minority, mainly composed of young men and others, who absent themselves during the week-end. This small element bears a very heavy responsibility at this time. If the four and a half per cent. guilty of voluntary absenteeism to-day would decide to reduce their absenteeism by only one half their country would have 4,000,000 tons more coal a year.

"STERN MEASURES"

"When we have asked and got a response from every class, rich and poor alike, is it too much to ask that these young men should really make an effort to play their part in seeing their country through its difficulties?" He was endeavouring to tackle the problem by individual approach and by experiments, but he would not be afraid to take sterner measures if necessary.

The great majority of miners were putting their backs into the job, and output per shift was greater than last year. He was confident that if there was no serious decline in output per man, and greater economies were secured, they should be able to see next winter through. He advised domestic consumers to stock-up for the winter now. Measures being taken included concentration of pits, more mechanisation, and steps to improve the intake of boys into the mines.

Doctor's Ten-Year Building Plan

Every county should have a housing plan, rather than a number of housing schemes without any plan, it was stated in the 13th annual report by the County Medical Officer of Health for Meath. It would be sounder to build 100 houses per year according to a ten years plan, each hundred to be built as a result of a survey, and built to replace 100 specific houses, than to build 500 in one year and wade through 1,500 applicants as a result of 500 advertisements for applicants.

Money available for building should also be available for repairs and reconstruction, and a building programme in a district should be based on a survey. Local authorities should have permission to build specifically for those cases pointed out by the survey, rather than to build for those cases best qualified as a result of a race in accelerated disrepair or deliberate negligence.

Six Years for U.S. Soldier in England

A coloured American soldier, Private Lee Bends, of a United States Army Aviation Battalion, was, at Ipswich yesterday, sentenced to six years' hard labour and ordered to be dishonourably discharged from the army. He was found guilty of stabbing a British sapper, Matthew Munn, Royal Engineers, of Spennymore, Co. Durham, and assaulting a London woman by threatening to stab her with a pocket knife.

Belfast Attempted Murder Charge

At Belfast Custody Court yesterday, James H. Mooney (20), of Raglan street; Arthur J. Steele (17), of Artillery street, and Joseph Doyle (16), of Whiterock Crescent, were remanded in custody charged with the attempted murder of Head Constable F. White, Sergeant W. J. Anderson, and Constable T. Gregg. The men were further charged with William Doyle (18), of Britton's Drive, who was also remanded, with the possession of four revolvers and ammunition and with unlawful assembly.

The charges were a sequel to the round-up of a number of young men at claypits, off Springfield road, when shots were exchanged.

Defence of Poor Prisoners

"Is there no provision that a man who has no money can get a copy of the evidence against him," asked Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy, in the Central Criminal Court yesterday, when Mr. Sean McBride explained that he had not been able to get a copy of the depositions in the case, as his client had no money, and it was not possible to get them in such circumstances.

Mr. McBride—No.

"It is a remarkable state of affairs," said Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy.

Irish Coxswain's Third Medal

Coxswain Patrick Sliney, of Ballycotton, who has already won the Royal National Lifeboat Institution's gold and bronze medals, has now won its silver medal for saving an Irish steamer and her crew of 35 men. The steamer's engines had failed and heavy seas were carrying her rapidly on to an island, where she would have been broken to pieces on the rocks in a few minutes. The lifeboat towed her head round just in time, and she drifted past the island with less than half a mile to spare. The Institution has awarded bronze medals to the second-coxswain and two motor mechanics, and its thanks on vellum to each of the other four members of the crew.

STORE CATTLE SALES

Gavin Low, Ltd.—Increased numbers of store cattle on offer, and, with a full attendance of buyers, prices generally were well maintained, and an early clearance effected. Cross-Channel and Northern buyers endeavoured unsuccessfully to reduce prices. Bulling heifers and wintering cattle were in keen demand from home feeders. Aged conditioned bullocks, 70/- to 66/- per cwt.; bulling heifers, £22 to £18; young bullocks and heifers, £21 to £17 per head.

Ganly and Sons.—Large numbers on offer, and a steady trade, though prices were not so high as last week. Sellers, however, were inclined to accept the reduced rates prevailing, and as a result a very good clearance was effected. Best lots of bullocks £42 to £30 (70/- to 65/- per cwt), with a few extra fancy lots making up to 72/6 per cwt.; best heifers, £28 15/- to £20 (69/- to 64/-); many other lots of bullocks and heifers, £29 10/- to £20 (64/6 to 60/- per cwt.); younger classes, £18 to £11.

Craigie Bros.—Heavy supplies again on offer, and, with a full company of buyers present, trade was brisk for all classes of well-conditioned cattle at the slightly reduced prices ruling. Secondary and thin sorts in quiet demand. Well bred young stock in keen request, a good clearance being accomplished. Best bullocks, £40 10/- to £30; others, £29 to £24; best heifers, £31 to £24 10/-; others, £24 to £18; young stock from £22 to £11 10/-.

The Department of Defence announces that the period of the Firing Practices and Air Corps exercises at present taking place at Gormanstown, Co Meath, has been extended to the 10th July, 1943. See advertisement.

G.N.R. Driver Describes Hold-up

THE story of the Amiens street armed "hold-up" last March was told in the Central Criminal Court, Green street, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy and a jury, when Patrick McElroy (33), of Nash street, Inchicore, and Joseph Haines (28), of Tyrconnell Park, Inchicore, were charged on several counts, with conspiracy and with having, on March 4th last, shot at Charles A. Rankin and James A. Begley with intent to murder them; with having wounded James A. Begley, and, being armed with a revolver, with having robbed Charles A. Rankin of £117 11s. They were also charged with having in their possession a .38 calibre revolver. McElroy pleaded guilty to charges of having, while armed, robbed C. A. Rankin of £117 11s., and of assaulting him with intent to rob him. Both of the men pleaded not guilty on all other counts.

Mr. Sean MacBride (instructed by Messrs. Lehane and Hogan) appeared for McElroy. Haines was not professionally represented.

Evidence would be given to show that there was an undoubted armed robbery, though not successful, of £117 from Mr. Rankin, a paymaster of the Great Northern Railway Coy., said Mr. McLoughlin, who, with Mr. S. Hooper, instructed by the Chief State Solicitor, prosecuted.

HEARD SHOT

James Begley, a staff motor driver with the G.N.R., described how Mr. Rankin put the pay-box on the back seat of the car. Immediately he heard a voice say "Come on, get in." He saw Mr. Rankin run around the back of the car and heard a shot. Before he could turn around there was somebody in the car, and he heard the order, "Drive on." He drove a little distance, heard another shot on his left-hand side, and lost consciousness. When he regained consciousness he was sitting behind the wheel, going straight for a horse and float. They crashed, and he lost consciousness again. He did not see the man beside him at any time.

Mr. G. Griffin said that while watching the car he saw a man step in with a revolver aimed at the driver. The car had moved a little distance when a shot rang out and he saw a flash inside the car. The driver fell towards the left and the other man caught the wheel.

Corporal Alex. McBride said that about last Christmas Haines had shown him a revolver similar to the one used by McElroy, stating that he was going to sell it.

The hearing was adjourned until to-day.

Cinema Proprietor's Action

A right of way from the public highway to the Ritz Cinema, Chapelizod, was the subject of an equity suit before Judge Davitt, in the Dublin Circuit Civil Court yesterday. Charles Brocklebank, 23 Fownes street, Dublin, cinema proprietor, was the plaintiff, and John Keenan, Mullingar House, Chapelizod, was the defendant.

Mr. Brocklebank bought a plot of land at Chapelizod from Mr. Keenan in October, 1939, on which he erected the Ritz Cinema. He claimed that he was prevented from obtaining a permanent cinema licence because Mr. Keenan refused to allow him to extend the 6-foot right of way to the 12-foot width required by the Corporation by-laws.

Mr. Keenan's case was that Mr. Brocklebank was fully aware of the fact that the Corporation required a 12-foot exit, and had taken the risk in the belief that he could obtain a licence for a passage-way of 6 feet.

The further hearing was adjourned for a week.

RADOX IN THE PINK PACKET

Did you remember to guard against underarm odour, Miss Betty?
Yes thank you, Jane!
THE smartest and most glamorous of young society women know that even for them it is just asking for broken romances to take any risks about excessive perspiration.
To make scrupulously certain that they will never 'offend' by underarm odour, a few moments with Odo-ro-no has become an essential part of their toilet. The armpit is kept dry and sweet with Odo-ro-no, even in summer, even in hot clothing. Odo-ro-no is the most complete and thorough deodorant it is possible to get. Make certain that you are unfailingly sweet and fresh. Buy a bottle of Odo-ro-no from your chemist to-day.
LIQUID ODO-RO-NO for COMPLETE underarm protection
Odo-ro-no liquid in two strengths, Regular (lasts for 7 days), Instant (lasts for 3 days).

BRAINY SHEEP AT CURRAGH

The word "sheepish" takes on a new meaning at the Curragh, according to Private Tony Morris, stationed there.

"Sheep are not so dumb," states Tony. "Give them an example and they can learn." In support of this he tells about the morning he was doing physical jerks in the open and saw about 200 sheep advancing towards the racecourse. Coming up to the roadway, which runs along the crest, they were in single file. Nearing the crest the main column rested, while scouts were sent out on either flank. The scouts reported back, and then the whole 200 sheep went over the ridge in line of sections.

The whole operation, states Tony, was carried out with perfect drill movements, "though the tactics were a bit screwy."

Before the Storm

During the last few weeks the election campaign has tended to monopolise public attention in Ireland, with the result that popular interest in the course of the war has been inclined to flag. Actually, remarkably little has been happening. Since the Anglo-American victory in Tunisia there has been a distinct lull on all fronts, and, apart from activity in the air, there has been virtually nothing to report. The air offensive has taken a spectacular turn. After the capture of Tunisia and Bizerta the Allies began a systematic bombardment of the ports and airfields of Sicily and Sardinia, with occasional raids on Naples and other important centres of population on the Italian mainland; and most of the military commentators took the view that this renewed offensive was a prelude to an attempted invasion of the European continent from the Mediterranean. Then the Allied High Command switched the aerial offensive from the Mediterranean to the Ruhr. Within the last three weeks the Royal Air Force has been exceedingly active. One by one the chief industrial cities of the Ruhr valley have been visited by British bombers, which have made their attacks in impressive force. The other night, for example, more than seven hundred machines were over Krefeld, and twenty-four hours rarely have passed without a major raid on one or other of Germany's centres of production. These raids have not been carried out with impunity. The Krefeld attack cost the British forty-four bombers; and it is evident that, while the percentage of loss still is relatively low, the Germans have increased the strength and intensity of their "Flak," and that they are concentrating at the moment on anti-aircraft defences. Their official reports make no attempt to minimise the gravity of the damage that is being caused by the British raids. Manifestly the Anglo-American Allies have a numerical superiority in the air, which is bound to increase as time progresses, and they are using it in an attempt to cripple Germany's war production before they attempt to invade the Continent.

In the meanwhile, Russia is continuing to press for the immediate establishment of a second front. On the second anniversary of the German invasion the Soviet Government issued a special announcement which made the general position absolutely clear. During the last two years Russia has been bearing the brunt of the fighting on land. The British and Americans scored a decided success in North Africa, but the number of men involved on both sides was comparatively small; and, although the Tunisian campaign has had a big effect on the general strategy of the war, any attempt to compare it with the campaign in Russia would be ridiculous. According to the Russian statement, nearly 11,000,000 men have been lost in killed and prisoners alone on the Russian front. The Germans have lost 6,400,000, and the Russians themselves 4,200,000. In view of the fact that the Russians have been on the defensive most of the time, the apparent discrepancy between the losses of the two belligerents is not unreasonable. Attackers invariably lose more than defenders. Of course, the Russians cannot know precisely how many men the Germans have lost; but they must know their own casualties, and the figure which they give is gigantic. They admit freely that Russia alone cannot hope to defeat the Axis. Obviously, the campaigns of the last two years have bled their people white, and, although they still have colossal reserves of man-power, they evidently are in no case to mount a major offensive without help from the British and Americans. Will that help be forthcoming; and, if so, where? That is the question which is exercising the minds of men and women throughout the world at present. The Germans and the Italians are on the qui vive. Since the recapture of Kharkov the Germans have been continuously on the defensive everywhere, and it is evident that they are husbanding their resources against a possible invasion of the continent by the Allies. It was generally expected that they would resume their offensive against Russia before the end of May in an effort to capture Moscow, and, possibly, Leningrad as well; but they have been marking time on the Russian front, and it has been stated that they have withdrawn a number of first-class divisions which have been sent to the West to reinforce the garrisons in France and elsewhere. The Russians insist on their demand that the second front shall be established during the present campaigning season. Their latest statement, in a sense, was a cri du cœur, and there can be small doubt that a critical stage has been reached in the history of the war. All the world is in a state of nervous tension. Everybody realises that tremendous events are pending, and the suspense is beginning to make itself felt. When the great clash comes, as come it must, the loss of life will be appalling; but there is no way of escape from the dilemma, and the peoples of Europe, including the neutrals, must be prepared to face a period of unprecedented suffering before sheer exhaustion forces peace upon the world again.

Naming the Ship

Any reasonably intelligent father and mother, between them, can appoint names for their offspring, even if that offspring amounts to ten, twelve, fourteen, or even twenty, little hopefuls. There are, admittedly, relatives who must be pleased; there are saints; for the extremely national-minded, there is a limited choice of antique heroes and heroines whose names may, or may not, lend lustre to the still squalling infant. It is otherwise with ships. Ships are not subject to the limitations of human frailties. It is difficult—indeed, it is almost without precedent—for a single family to produce more than a round score of children, whereas a country can launch many thousands of ships; and every one of those ships must bear a different name. So says Lloyd's Register. The British Navy has done its best to bring a rational principle to bear upon the selection of names. It has named one class of warships after distinguished admirals, another after animals, another after fish, and so on; it can talk even of the "H" class of destroyers, all of which bear a name beginning with the letter "H." The merchant service, consisting of far more vessels than the Royal Navy, finds the task of apportioning names more complicated. Many ships are being built to the order of the British Government, which has so much respect for the tradition of the sea that it declines to distinguish by numbers. What seaman, it argues, could concede any genuine loyalty to a vessel going by the name of DX4703 or PDQ1149? It has made every effort to create a logical array of names. Ships have been given the names of writers: there is a series ranging from Barrie, Bede and Boswell to Homer, Scott, Spenser and Tennyson. Shakespeare has been drained of names, both female and male—Audrey, Beatrice, Celia, Jessica, Miranda, Perdita, Portia, Rosalind, sounding almost like the celebrated quatrain from "The Blessed Damozel," as well as Brutus, Capulet, Falstaff, Florizel and Prospero. Actors, says the Shipping Correspondent of The Times, are represented by Garrick. The legends of Arthur and his knights are recalled by the logs—the name, as we understand, no longer is painted in bold letters on stern and both bows of every vessel—of the Galahad, Geraint, Gareth, Launcelot, Mordred, Elaine, Guinevere and Mordred. Ships now under construction pay tribute to Thackeray, Scott and Dickens. There are the Pendennis and Talisman, not to mention the Copperfield, Chuzzlewit, Peggotty, Pickwick and Tapley. Even when all these sources are exhausted, the odds are that English ingenuity will discover, and English tradition will provide, new sources. Yet the business of searching will give headaches to many clerks in the Admiralty.

WHISPERING

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES

SIR,—"The shouting and the tumult dies . . ."—but died a hard death in Rathfarnham last evening.

While it appeared quite clear that the question of neutrality was not an issue between any of the parties, the existence of a whispering campaign was frequently referred to in the daily Press recently.

Last night at 8 o'clock this "whispering" campaign was frankly brought to a "roaring" climax by Fianna Fail. A large blue motor van with two loud-speakers on the roof proceeded up the main street of Rathfarnham village and returned again giving the following advice to last-minute electors: "For God's sake, Vote Fianna Fail or the blood of your children will be on your own heads. For God's sake, don't Vote Labour, J. T. O'Farrell has orders from London. . . . For God's sake, Vote Fianna Fail or the blood of your children will be on your own heads."

Perhaps it is rather a pity that Fianna Fail did not openly sponsor this campaign a little earlier, as they would undoubtedly have influenced many voters, though not in the way they desired.

In these days of strained nerves, surely this last minute "panic-mongering" of Fianna Fail was the most despicable of electioneering tactics we have seen to date?—Yours, etc.,

R. MORTON WILSON, LL.B.
28 Whitebeam avenue, Clonskeagh, Co. Dublin.

WEDDINGS

WOULFE FLANAGAN—SWEETMAN.—The wedding took place yesterday at St. Columbkill's Church, Kells, of Mr. Hubert Woulfe Flanagan, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Woulfe Flanagan, of Boyle, Co. Roscommon, and Rosemount, Clonskea, Co Dublin, and Miss Honoria Sweetman, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Sweetman, Drumbaragh, Kells, Co. Meath. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by the Right Rev. Monsignor R. MacCullen, P.P., V.G. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. John Sweetman. There were two bridesmaids, Miss Alicia Sweetman (sister of the bride) and Miss Mary Woulfe Flanagan (sister of the bridegroom). Miss Helen Sweetman (the bride's niece) was the trainbearer. Mr. William Roche was best man. A reception was held by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Sweetman, at Drumbaragh.

DAVISON—DOUGLAS.—The wedding of Mr. Ernest William Davison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davison, Bangor, Co. Down, and Miss Doris Eileen Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Douglas, Morehampton road, Donnybrook, took place yesterday at Sandford Church. The Service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Nesbitt Harvey. The bride was given away by her father, and there were three bridesmaids, the Misses Sylvia Douglas (sister of the bride), Muriel Bolton and Dorothy Benwell (cousins of the bride). Mr. Donald Bell was best man. A reception was held at the bride's home.

HEFFERNAN — DONOVAN.—The wedding took place yesterday at the Church of the Holy Family, Aughrim street, Dublin, of Dr. Daniel A. Heffernan, son of the late Mr. John Heffernan and of Mrs. Heffernan, Fernhurst Villas, College road, Cork, and Miss Margaret Donovan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Donovan, Lindeneck, Cabra road, Dublin. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Cunningham, C.C. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Doreen Donovan. Mr. R. K. Heffernan was best man. A reception was held in the Gresham Hotel.

KEANE — BRENNAN.—The wedding took place on June 1st at the Church of the Immaculate Lady of Refuge, Rathmines, of Mr. Thomas Keane, Dublin, and Miss Kay Brennan, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Brennan, "Byculla," Arbutus avenue, Harold's Cross. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass, was performed by the Rev. M. Gleeson, C.C. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Nina Maguire. Mr. Michael Keane, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. A reception was held in the Gresham Hotel.

IRISH NEWS IN BRIEF

Belfast's New High Sheriff.—Alderman F. W. Kennedy was yesterday sworn in as High Sheriff of Belfast in succession to Alderman T. Henderson.

Belfast Man Acquitted, Re-arrested.—By direction of Judge McGonigal, John Patrick Davis, May street, Belfast, was at Omagh yesterday acquitted by a jury of falsely pretending that he was a representative of Minimax Fire Extinguishers, but on leaving the court he was re-arrested on a false pretences charge and remanded in custody.

T.D. Charged.—Dr. Joseph Hannigan, T.D., Highfield road, Upper Rathmines, was charged in Dublin yesterday, before District Justice McCann with being drunk in charge of a motor car at North Strand road between 6 and 6.30 yesterday morning, with being incapable of managing the motor car, with driving the car to the common danger, with having no licence to drive the car and with driving the car without a permit from the Department of Supplies. He was remanded until 28th inst. in his own bail of £50.

Dungannon's Unusual Strike.—Northern Ireland has had another strike—an unusual one this time. Eight members of the Dungannon Bookmakers' Association were involved, and their strike followed the decision of the management of the Oaks Park Greyhound Racing Track, Dungannon, to permit any bookmaker to operate in the ground and the subsequent appearance of several new bookmakers. The dispute has been amicably settled, but the terms are not available.

Two Cork Inquests.—It was fairly clear that the unfortunate woman got into the river for the purpose of destroying herself, said Acting Coroner J. McCabe at the inquest in Cork yesterday on Miss Mary C. Tracey, aged 55, of 9 Chapel Hill, Cork, whose body was recently recovered from the River Lee. A verdict of death from hypostatic pneumonia, consequent on an accidental fall in which she broke her leg, was returned by Coroner Horgan at the inquest on Mrs. Mary O'Mahony, 11 Thomas Davis avenue, Cork.

MISS BURCHILL'S DANCING MATINEE

Miss Eveline Burchill's matinée yesterday, at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin, was largely attended and much enjoyed. Both junior and senior pupils acquitted themselves with skill and spirit, and did credit to their teacher. Eunice Smythe and Constance Phayre were clever in acrobatic dancing on the junior side; and Collette Sigal, in "Farm Produce," danced with grace and vigour. In "Perfumes" Audrey Graham showed herself highly promising. Serita Rubinstein gave a smart example of tap. Patsy McCarthy, though still very young, appeared to advantage in both senior and junior sides of the programme, and is one of Miss Burchill's most hopeful pupils. She is already expert on points; and as Peacock and Bride was charming.

George Begley appeared several times on the senior side, always skilful and finished, and a tower of strength to his partners, especially clever Bettina Voakes. A delightful pair to watch, these two.

Of Miss Burchill's senior pupils, perhaps the most technically correct and promising is Peggy Paynter, who continues to make steady progress, and is now one of the best ballet-dancers in Dublin. She is followed closely by Dicti Ruddock and Florrie Delaney. The work of all three was throughout excellent. Peggy Paynter's example of classical ballet, in "Spring Morning," was a delight; and equally pleasing was the pas de trois of herself, Dicti Ruddock and Florrie Delaney: "White Christmas," a classical ballet danced in the three-quarter length ballet skirt of "Les Sylphides," the most graceful of all dancing dresses. A most spirited finale showed, among much else that was clever, the comedy talents of Maura Bruchner at their best.

At the close Lynn Doyle congratulated Miss Burchill, who received an ovation.

LONDON LETTER

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

HYDE Park has much changed since the outbreak of war, orator's corner is different, and many of the familiar figures have gone. Few riders are now to be seen in the Row, but the Hyde Park shepherd, Alfred McGee and the head bathing attendant at the Serpentine, Ted Stoter, go about their work as usual. McGee, who comes from a small Perthshire village, has been minding sheep since he was four years old. Stoter has been in his present job since 1930, and he has a scrapbook in which are recorded the signatures of many famous bathers, including John Drinkwater and "Joe" Kennedy, the former United States Ambassador.

Disciples of Walton

The heaviest salmon—40lbs.—landed from the River Ness during the past fifty years was caught yesterday in one of the Dochfour pools by Mr. W. H. MacLellan, of Glasgow, who had a difficult fight. The salmon is three feet ten inches long, and has a girth of twenty-six inches. On the same water last week Mr. MacLellan caught four salmon weighing 11, 10, 10 and 25½ lbs. A few days ago, another record was set up at Loch Rannock, where Mr. A. E. Thomson, with an invicta fly, caught a sea trout weighing 2lbs. 5ozs., just west of the sluice gates. No sea trout has ever been caught in the loch before, and, allowing for bends in the Tay and Tummel, the fish must have travelled well over 100 miles. This is believed to be a record for Scotland.

Popularising "Hansard"

The circulation of the official report of the debates in the House of Commons, on sale at sixpence at the Stationery Office and through booksellers on the day after each sitting, has averaged only 2,000 to 2,500 copies for some years. These figures exclude the free copies sent to Government departments and to members. Viewing with anxiety the small space which can be given at present by the newspapers to Parliament, Commander Stephen King-Hall, M.P., has formed "The Friends of Hansard," a society which is out to increase the study of "Hansard" throughout the world. He has fixed a single subscription, not an annual one, of £1. The venture is to be non-profit making, and the entire funds will be used in a continuous campaign to publicise the official report. If its circulation can be raised by this means to 10,000, the Treasury will probably agree to a reduction in the price to threepence.

Corsica and Sardinia

The high proportion—50 per cent.—of pasture land in Corsica is comparable to that in Sardinia. On both islands the conditions of climate and soil favour the dominance of thin grazing. The lower meadows are utilised in winter and the higher mountains in summer. The islands are separated only by the seven miles of the Strait of Bonifacio. Corsica's present population is 322,000. Both islands have been much in the news of late, and are thought likely to be in the near future.

Showground Food

A public park in the North-East, for many years the site of an agricultural show and carnival ground, is now producing food. The land was low-lying, and in 1920 the Borough Surveyor to improve its value as a show ground raised the level by removing the top soil and dumping house refuse. Many tons of refuse were spread and the top soil replaced. Three years ago the local Council decided to cultivate this 17 acres. The field was ploughed out and early potatoes planted. The crop was awarded first prize in a competition arranged by the Durham County Agricultural Society. This year the land is under oats, and a further 222 acres are under bread grain, potatoes and green vegetables in recreation grounds and school playing fields. A herd of 250 pigs, fed mainly on kitchen waste, is also maintained.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

At the Poll

The polling-booth was not particularly crowded when I arrived there on Tuesday—having disregarded the very proper injunction to vote early. Nevertheless, it was quite a number of minutes before my bona fides had been checked, and my ballot form handed over, by the very courteous officials in charge.

The delay was due to my predecessor in the queue. Apparently there was some trouble about his identification. What it was I don't know—a mistaken initial in the register, perhaps. Anyhow, a low-voiced conversation proceeded between him and the officials for fully five minutes.

By that time the officials looked reasonably satisfied, but they were taking no chances. They proceeded to administer an oath to him, to the effect that he was who he claimed to be—an official dictating the words, and the voter repeating them.

It was at this stage that one of the policemen on duty came up and suggested—with the utmost politeness—that I might move back a little and not be listening in to a private affair. "Not," he said, "that you would be."

But, as you may have gathered, I was. I was doing my best anyhow. And I went away very much impressed by the care taken to prevent impersonation.

An Irish Actress.

I have just heard that Geraldine Fitzgerald, the Dublin actress, has tied with Helen Hayes for second place for the best acting of the American year. Tallulah Bankhead was awarded first place. Miss Fitzgerald was seen in a play produced by Max Reinhardt on Broadway.

The remarkable circumstance attending the awards—which were made by the New York dramatic critics—is that, while Miss Fitzgerald is a young actress, the other two are more or less, as it were, veterans of the stage. Helen Hayes, it will be recollected, made a signal hit some years ago as Queen Victoria in Housman's "Victoria Regina," when it ran in New York. As for Miss Bankhead, she played for years in London, after having made a successful début in New York. Then it was necessary for her to grow long hair before she secured an engagement!

I understand that the play on Broadway in which Miss Fitzgerald was given a part has now been taken off, and she has returned to Hollywood to "star" in a new film which goes into production there this week.

A Brontë Enthusiast

Mr. Jonas Bradley, who has died, at the age of 84, at Haworth, the place made famous as the home of the Brontë sisters, had been an enthusiastic member of the Brontë Society almost since its foundation, and for many years had been a Vice-President.

For 30 years he was Headmaster of the local school at Stanbury, which owed its origin to the father of the Brontës. Charlotte occasionally taught there. Mr. Bradley held the opinion that the Rev. Patrick Brontë was not the fierce master he was made out to be, and that justice has not been done to him. He believed that the false impression was due largely to remarks made by Charlotte, who had little patience with him.

Mr. Bradley had acted as guide to the Brontë country to many hundreds of visitors and he knew every place associated in any way with the family. Emily was his favourite of the three writers, mainly because of her love of the moors, and he thought that in her inspired moments she was the equal of Shakespeare.

Paper in Plenty

Presumably the United States has begun to feel the pinch of war by now. Nevertheless, I have just received a copy of a Sunday issue of the New York Times, and have been sufficiently curious to have it weighed. It turns the scale at 2 lbs. 2 ozs.

You can weigh an average copy of an Irish or English newspaper for yourself, and calculate how much goes into what how many times.

QUIDNUNC.

ASTRONOMICAL NUMBERS

By OUR MILITARY CORRESPONDENT.

ON Midsummer's Day there was broadcast by Moscow Radio a statement of the Soviet Information Bureau dealing with their two years of war against the Axis Powers. Figures of casualties and material losses were given for both contending sides, which were truly gigantic. Simultaneously a German statement was issued from Berlin, framed along similar lines, but giving no figures for German losses. It is thus not easy to establish a comparison between the two pronouncements—and it is altogether impossible to reconcile them completely.

GERMAN LOSSES

As there is only the one set of figures dealing with German losses, it will be well to deal with these first. They were as follows:—6,400,000 killed and prisoners; guns lost, 56,500; tanks lost, 42,400; 'planes lost, 43,000. Now, it is difficult to estimate the losses of the other side in any circumstances. This is particularly so for a belligerent retreating over great expanses—which was the case of the Russians for much of the time in both 1941 and 1942. All that can be known with certainty is the number of prisoners taken and of captured material. The only occasion of a really big haul of German prisoners was in the case of the Sixth Army of Paulus at Stalingrad; so that most of the six millions odd must be regarded as dead, if the figure is to be approximately accepted—and we do not know how it was arrived at.

As to the claims of material lost or destroyed, it is reasonable to accept these more readily. In both their winter counter-offensives the Russians inflicted heavy material losses. Even when the Germans were able to extricate their men, they frequently had to abandon tanks, guns and aircraft. Then, too, at Stalingrad vast quantities had been built up, in view of the siege operations. Again, important stocks must have been lost when such dépôts as Kharkov or Millerovo passed back, temporarily or permanently, into Russian possession. We must leave the matter at that.

SOVIET LOSSES

For the Russian losses, as has been said, we have two sets of figures and thus a basis of comparison. In each case the Russian figures are given first, the German figures following in parentheses: Guns, 35,000 (50,000); tanks, 30,000 (36,000); aircraft 23,000 (40,000). The discrepancies are considerable, but not incapable of being reconciled. For example, a trench-mortar or a light anti-tank piece might sometimes be returned as a "gun"; or a damaged 'plane might succeed in making its way home.

But the comparative figures for personnel losses are quite incapable of any such adjustment. The Russians give their own losses as 4,200,000 in "killed and missing," while the Germans claim twenty millions "killed and wounded," and five million prisoners. Evidently what has been said above as to the difficulty of estimating enemy casualties applies here also. Indeed, the introduction of the category "wounded" increases the difficulty. As to the number of prisoners claimed, it is doubtless very great; but over three millions has been mentioned quite a considerable time ago, and several millions are certainly working in Germany and other Axis countries.

WAR MATERIAL

At all events, one fact can be definitely gathered from these two statements—the gigantic measure of the effort imposed on both combatants by the war on the Russian front. Even the most numerous populations must feel such casualties—especially when it is necessary at the same time to grapple with industrial war-problems on a corresponding scale. And the very fact that war-material disappears in such wholesale fashion means that the industrial efforts to replace—and increase—it must be of a like order of magnitude.

No wonder, then, that there is a temporary lull in the fighting on this front. The need to rest and reorganise must be as great for one belligerent as for another. The Russians have been attacking the more recently and they will scarcely resume that rôle until such time as the necessary reserves of men and material to maintain a continuous effort have been amassed. For the Germans the position is even more clear and understandable. While they are in expectation of an Allied attack elsewhere they cannot afford to make any too serious commitments in Russia.

FELLOWSHIP OF WITNESS

The Rev. T. McCracken, M.B., will be the special preacher to-morrow evening in Dolphin's Barn Methodist Church, at a united Service organised by the local branch of the Fellowship of Witness movement. This movement seeks to create a spirit of Christian fellowship between the Churches, so that united witness may be borne to the message of Christianity for to-day without, however, interfering with the particular "interpretations" that distinguish the various Churches taking part. In this area there are representative Congregations of the Church of Ireland, the Presbyterian Church, the Methodist Church, the Moravian Church, the Baptist Church and the Salvation Army. The Fellowship of Witness movement originated in Dublin, but is exactly similar to the "Religion and Life" movement in Britain.

The Rev. T. McCracken is shortly going to England to pursue a course of higher study in psychology.

The Phœnix for Irish Derby

NINE colts will go to the post for the Irish Derby at the Curragh to-day, and a confident vote is given who already has proved his superiority over Solferino and Solar Prince in the Irish 2,000 Guineas, in which race Crackerjack finished close-up fourth to the above-mentioned trio.

It is thought that the extra half mile of to-day's race will be more favourable to the chance of Solferino compared with the Guineas mile, but there is no sound reason for assuming that the additional distance will not be equally within the capabilities of Mr. F. S. Myerscough's unbeaten colt. Solferino and Crackerjack are selected for the other placings.

It is a very interesting programme, and the Conyngham Lodge stable, which will be strongly represented, should be successful in a couple of events. Selections:—

Scurry Handicap—Edvina.
Mountjoy Plate—Sir Gabriel.
Loughbrown Handicap—Safari.
Irish Derby—The Phœnix, win; Solferino and Crackerjack, places.

GREYHOUND SALE AT HAROLD'S CROSS

Prices at Messrs. Goff's greyhound sale at Harold's Cross yesterday failed to reach the high standard set in recent months. Bidding was anything but brisk, and the majority of the dogs were unsold, while several useful trackers failed to reach their reserves. Mr. P. Begley paid top price of 180 guineas for Heathstown Lad, a trial winner in 30.78 seconds and a litter brother to Castledown Road, who was recently sold for 410 guineas. Montana Cutlet was also knocked down to Mr. Begley for 170 guineas. Principal sales:— Gns.

Record Prices for De Beers and Blyvoors

THERE was a more cheerful atmosphere on the London Stock Exchange yesterday. Activity was for the most part confined to the more speculative sections.

There was some professional dealing in Diamonds, and here the news that De Beers are to restart work at the Dutoitspan Mine was a factor in causing a general rise. De Beers Def. rose 12/6 to £21 5/-, the highest since 1937. Anglo-American Trust rose 1/- to 67/-, and Consolidated 9d. to 43/9.

There was a continued firmness in Kaffirs, and Blyvoors continued to create new records with a jump of 1/10½ to the new high level of 73/1½. West Wits rose ⅛ to 8⅜, and West Rand Invest. 1/3 to 22/3.

San Paulo Railway Ord. jumped £5 to £65.

The leaders in the Oil Market again experienced a good day, strong buying being again reported. Anglo-Iranian were 7½d. better at 90/7½. Burmah 1/10½ up at 63/1½, Canadian Eagle 3d. up at 11/3, Shell 1/3 at 72/6, and Leaseholds 1/3 at 77/6.

The news of the United States coal strike had a good effect on Internationals, Brazilian Traction gaining another 1/8 to 33⅛, after 33¼. Canadian Pacific were up ½ at 16⅝, and Int. Nickel ¼ at 49.

The outstanding feature in the Iron, Coal and Steel group were Powell Duffryn, which gained 9d. at 23/4½ on the increased dividend. For the rest of the Industrial Market, Rayons were steady, with British Celanese up 3d. at 22/4½, while the Motor and Brewery sections were also firm.

Gilt-edged securities held their ground.

English Bank Shares Lower

THE £1 Stock Units of the Powell Duffryn Steam Coal Company rose 1/- to 23/7½ yesterday on the announcement that the final dividend is to be 5 per cent., making 7½ per cent. for the year, compared with 7 per cent. last year and 5½ per cent. for 1940-41. The company, which has £5,266,275 of Ordinary capital, shares with Welsh Associated Collieries the control of Powell Duffryn Associated Collieries. The operating company is this year distributing £325,000, against £319,000 last year.

British Bank shares have recently been a drifting market, following the course of Gilt-edged stocks, and so far have not participated in the slight recovery which has been seen in the funds.

Middle prices to-day, compared with the beginning of the month, are as follows:—

	End May.	To-day.
Barclays "B"	76/-	73/-
Midland	88/-	86/
National Provincial	74/-	71/-
Lloyds	59/6	58/6
Westminster	89/-	85/6

The half-yearly dividend announcements will be made next month, and, given a continuance in the improvement in Gilt-edged stocks, a recovery in Bank shares may be anticipated.

W. and T. Avery, Ltd., famed as the manufacturers of weighting, testing, and counting machines, is one of those steady companies which pursue their course unaffected despite the disturbance in the world around them. For many years back regular dividends of 15 per cent. have been paid, and this rate is again announced for the year to March 31 last, with a final payment of 10 per cent. Profits, at £138,150, show an increase of £7,743. The £1 units are valued at 80/-, and thus give the moderate return of £3 15/- per cent.

Another company with a similarly good record is the Chloride Electrical Storage. Ten per cent. dividends have been paid for many years, with, in addition, bonuses of 5 per cent., rising in one year, 1938, to 10 per cent. It is now announced that for the year to March 31 last the distribution is again to be made up to 15 per cent., with a final of 5 per cent. and a bonus of 5 per cent. The company has an exceptionally strong financial position. The Ord. £1 units are tightly held, being valued at 82/-, at which the yield offered is only £3 13/2 per cent.

The full accounts of Ruston and Hornby show that profit in the year to March 31 last totalled £312,121, compared with £291,014. The Ordinary dividend is again 12½ per cent. The £1 shares are quoted at 45/3.

Record profits were earned in 1942 by the Cape Asbestos Company, the total being £169,209, compared with £93,521. This is of interest in view of the fact that this year the company celebrates the fiftieth year of its foundation. The higher profit, the report states, was due to the increased turnover and the exceptionally heavy demand for the company's crude asbestos for essential war purposes. All factories and mines have been working at full pressure. A final dividend of 10 per cent. is proposed, again making 12½ per cent. for the year. The £1 shares at 50/-, yield 5 per cent.

COMPANY NEWS

Park Gate Iron and Steel.—Trading profit £252,252 (against £243,529). Dividend on Ord. 4 p.c. (same).

Chloride Electrical.—Final 5 p.c. and a bonus of 5 p.c., making 15 p.c. on the "A" and "B" Ord. (same).

Cape Asbestos. — Record profit of £169,210, compared with £93,521. Dividends are repeated with a total of 17½ p.c. on the Pref. and 12½ p.c. on the Ord.

Markets Make Firm Showing

TRADING on the Dublin Stock Exchange was again on a restricted scale yesterday, but, despite the smallness of public interest, markets made a firm showing.

There was some buying of Irish Industrials and prices were better in places.

Among Home Government Funds, Second National Loan eased to 115½, and 4 p.c. Land Bonds to 106, but the 4½ p.c. Bonds firmed up to 117⅜. British Funds showed a harder trend, with 3½ p.c. War Loan 103⅝.

Banks made an idle showing, but Provincial Old advanced to 48/-, Guinness Ord. rose to 119/-, and Distillers Ord. were the turn better at 85/9. Rails were steadier, and Great Southern Deb. recovered to 54½.

Dublin Transport issues held up well, and Alliance Gas Ord. rose to 17/10½. Assoc. Chocolate Pref. moved up to 20/3, and Irish Cinema Pref. to 20/- Independent B Ord. advanced a further 1/- to 78/-, and Harrington Pref. jumped a like amount to 26/6.

In British Industrials, Carreras B Ord. slipped back to 15/7½, and Imperial Chemical Ord. to 39/1½. Bradford Dyers Ord. quoted 17/6, and Coats Ord. 45/3.

FOOD MARKETS

DUBLIN CATTLE.—There was a further increase in supplies here this week, numbers offered being 1,911 head. The show of cattle in point of quality was fairly well up to average, except heifers, which were mostly of ordinary class. Sales opened with a good demand for the pick of things suiting local and Northern requirements, with values steady. Best bullocks 67/- to 69/- and 70/-, heifers 68/- to 70/-, extra 70/6, useful secondary sorts 64/- to 66/-, others 60/- to 62/-. Beef cows, best 55/- to 60/-, seconds 43/- to 53/-, aged, etc., 30/- to 38/-, and bulls 43/- to 50/- per live cwt. As compared with corresponding market last year, prices show an increase of 7/- to 9/- per cwt.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.—On offer: 4,960 head, or 974 less than last day. With less pressure in supplies and a good attendance of buyers, trade generally worked out steady for all meated sheep, while lambs were placed to better advantage. Prime wethers 1/4 to 1/4½, best ewes 1/2 to 1/3, rougher 1/- to 1/1 per lb., and lambs 40/- to 74/- per head, according to condition.

DAIRY CATTLE.—Market gave 346 milch beasts to draw upon, or 78 more than last week. Trade ruled steady, and a fair clearance was effected without any material change in values at:—Best cows and heifers £30 to £35, extra £40, seconds £22 to £28, others £18 to £20 per head.

PIGS.—Supplies totalled 776 head, being 38 more than last Wednesday. Prime hogs 125/-, secondary 110/-, sows 90/- per cwt., controlled prices. Slips and bonhams in demand at 25/- to 50/-, extra 60/- to 65/- each.

To-day's Programme:—5.30: H. J. Ryan and I. Boden v. C. A. Kemp and J. J. Murphy; T. G. McVeagh and G. C. Dockeray v. R. Buchanan and A. P. Barry; P. D. MacWeeney and J. W. Lane v. N. D. Good and J. I. Fitzpatrick; N. O'O. Brennan and J. N. Duff v. W. Sandys and C. S. Almond. 6.30: C. A. Kemp v. R. Buchanan.

DEATH OF IRISH SOCCER FORWARD

The death occurred at a Guildford hospital on Tuesday of James Hopkins, aged 43, former Arsenal, Brighton and Aldershot inside forward, who was capped for Ireland against England in 1926.

YACHTING

Starting off the scratch mark in last evening's Wag Club tie for the "Pansy Salver," Penelope (R. B. Morris) added yet another to her list of wins. It was a "handicap start," and the winner just overhauled Sprite (2 mins.) in the closing stages, the latter being also passed by Vega on the line. There were thirteen starters.

ASCOT RUNNERS

Gordon Richards's mounts at Ascot on Saturday include:—12.30, Dark Duchess; 1.30, Comique; 2.0, Break of Day; 2.30, Entangle; 3.0, Gustator; 3.30, Good Cheer. Mrs. Bumpkin filly (T. H. Carey) will be W. Nightingall's selected in the Marlow Stakes to oppose Gustator.

WOOL

BRADFORD.—Market is still quiet, and seems likely to remain so until subcertificates are available for utility yarn. Clothiers have placed their orders with cloth manufacturers for first half of next garment production period, but yarns cannot be bought until wool control has dealt with applications for raw material. Prices keep very firm.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE
without Calomel—and you'll jump out of bed in the morning full of vim and vigour.
The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned, and you feel sour, sunk, and the world looks punk.
Laxatives help a little, but a mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 1/3 and 3/-.

PEMBROKE IN CRICKET CUP FINAL

Pembroke qualified to meet Clontarf in the final of the Leinster Senior Cup when, at Sydney Parade last evening, they defeated Phœnix by 132 runs. Overnight Phœnix had scored 140 for the loss of four wickets, but the remaining six batsmen added only 32 runs, 18 by N. Fox being the best effort. The brothers Williams shared the wickets, T. C. taking five for 74 and M. B. five for 52.

Pembroke deserved their victory for their fine all-round play. They and Phœnix are leading in the Leinster League, and their meeting next Saturday is bound to cause much interest. Score:

CLONTARF WIN

Last evening at Castle avenue Clontarf beat Dublin University by 103 runs. Moynan made a fine effort for Trinity, and played a splendid innings of 43 (not out), but none of the others, with the exception of Calvert and Fleming, gave any trouble. Fitzgerald, with 5 for 19, was the most successful bowler. Score:—

ACID "FUR"

Detect it this way
Try this now. Run your tongue round your mouth—do you notice it . . . a rough woolly feeling? That's acid fur, staining and spoiling your teeth; acid fur the hidden enemy which starts decay.
RID TEETH OF ACID FUR
Many things you eat cause acid to form in the mouth and acid fur is the result. To get rid of this acid fur, you must use an antacid toothpaste. 12,000 dentists know that the most effective antacid is 'Milk of Magnesia'. They recommend their patients to use Phillips' Dental Magnesia the only toothpaste containing 'Milk of Magnesia'. Rid your teeth of acid fur before it ruins them. Get a tube of Phillips' Dental Magnesia and use it night and morning.
Sold everywhere 7½d., 1/1d. and 1/10½.

Women Eagerly Adopt New Make Up Method

Because it ensures all day freedom from shiny skin women all over the country are adopting the new 'liquid foundation' introduced from America. They are finding that it confers marked advantages—in fact, since using it they are looking lovelier than ever before.

Need for "Touching Up" Ended for Good

THE time-honoured method for make up until lately adopted by most women—face cream followed by powder—had, as every woman knew, one grave disadvantage. From its very nature the face cream base inevitably became shiny after a shorter or longer time—in warm weather or in a close atmosphere a very short time. This means that the woman who wanted to keep her complexion looking right had to have constant recourse to her powder puff.

Henry C. Miner, famed New York cosmetic expert, has found a solution to the problem—Miner's Liquid Make Up Foundation. This easily applied foundation overcomes all the disadvantages of older methods. Even under the most trying conditions it does not become shiny, for even should the powder surface wear off the foundation itself is still matt. Another decided advantage of liquid foundation, and one of importance to many women, is that it renders minor skin blemishes completely invisible, giving a real petal smooth finish to even the roughest skin.

Leading chemists everywhere now have supplies of Miner's Liquid Make Up Foundation in five shades—Naturel, Rachel, Dark Rachel, Blonde Tan, and Brunette Tan—at 8d. and 1/9.

It's the Scotch!

Peggy Sage NOTES

SPORTING COLOURS

Wherever fashionable people foregather you will find Peggy Sage nail polish well represented. It is smart to sport colourful nails these days, and there are a host of delightful shades at your disposal in the Peggy Sage nail polish range. See them at your favourite stockists.

Mother! Give Constipated Child 'California Syrup of Figs'

Children love the pleasant taste of 'California Syrup of Figs' brand laxative, and gladly take it even when bilious, feverish, sick or constipated. No other laxative regulates the tender little bowels so nicely. It sweetens the stomach and stimulates the liver and bowels without cramping or over-acting. Millions of mothers depend upon this gentle, harmless laxative.

Tell your chemist you want 'California Syrup of Figs,' which has full directions for babies and children of all ages. Prices 1/3 and 2/6. Mother, you must say 'CALIFORNIA.'

After your Bath

Enjoy the soothing and cooling comfort of an "all-over" dusting with Cuticura Talcum. The purest of all talcum powders, it absorbs perspiration, prevents irritation, and keeps you delightfully fresh and fragrant all day.

AUCTIONS

OMAGH, CO. TYRONE.
FREEHOLD PROPERTY,

KNOWN AS CLONAVON HOUSE, AND GROUNDS, FOR SALE, WITH VACANT POSSESSION,
IN THE FOLLOWING LOTS, BY PUBLIC AUCTION, ON THE PREMISES, ON WEDNESDAY, 30th JUNE, AT TWO P.M., for the Trustee of the late T. C. DICKIE:—

LOT 1 consists of 3 ROODS and 30 PERCHES, being the plot on which the House occupied by Dr. Brian O'Brien is built, and which is Sold subject and with the benefit of a lease for 991 years from 7th November, 1878, at £10 per annum. This is a first-class investment, being fully secured.

LOT 2 comprises the Property known as CLONAVON HOUSE, GARDENS and LAWNS, containing 1 acre 3 roods and 26 perches. The Residence is beautifully situated, large and commodious, containing porch, entrance hall, 3 reception rooms, kitchen, scullery, pantry, and w.c. on ground floor; with 7 guest bedrooms, 2 servants' bedrooms, bathroom and 2 w.c.s. on second floor. Also under the same roof is portion of the house which has been converted into a self-contained Flat on the ground floor, containing sittingroom, 3 bedrooms, kitchenette, pantry, bathroom and w.c., lately rented furnished at £3 per week, with separate front entrance. Attached to the Residence is a large conservatory with heating apparatus.

The Offices, forming fully enclosed yard, comprise garage for 3 cars, washhouse, outside dairy, coalhouse with commodious lofts over same.

The Lawns and Gardens are beautifully laid-out, well stocked with fruit and flowers of all descriptions. The greenhouse in garden is also heated. Electric light and water laid on in the entire premises.

It is seldom a property of this class comes on the market for sale.

LOT 3 is a small PLOT OF BUILDING GROUND, containing 2 roods and 6 perches, nicely wooded, and is an ideal building site.

LOT 4 is BUILDING GROUND, containing 3 acres, with a frontage of 640 feet, adjoining the Tyrone County Hospital grounds.

LOT 5 comprises a BLOCK OF STABLING, adjoining Clonavon House, together with a garage and tool-house attached to same. Also 3 gardens running from the stabling to the Asylum Road. Area, 2 roods and 34 perches. The stabling was built regardless of expense, and could easily be converted into a first-class dwellinghouse.

LOT 6 comprises 2 COTTAGES, formerly occupied by gardener and chauffeur, together with gardens attached. These Houses are not subject to the Rent Restrictions Act.

The Property will be offered in the several Lots as above mentioned, or consolidated as desired by purchasers. Permission to View by Ticket only, which can be had on application to Solicitor or Auctioneer.

Conditions of Sale and Map can be inspected at any time with Messrs. DICKIE & CARSON, Solicitors, Omagh; or:

How to clean the lavatory

1 Sprinkle in Harpic, and leave as long as possible. Harpic's cleansing action reaches right round into the S-bend.
2 Flush the lavatory. The whole bowl is clean and sanitary—the part you don't see, as well.
Harpic's thorough action removes all discoloration—effectively cleans and deodorizes the whole pan. Easy to use and effective. Sprinkle it into the lavatory and leave as long as possible. Then flush. The whole bowl gleams white!
